 NOVEMBER 2010 ISSUE **

October Meeting

Steve Schmid, ASQ CMQ/OE (this is straight from his business card) the Quality Assurance Director of Global Field Operations for Underwriters Laboratories, gave an interesting AND informative presentation on the very important work this independent product safety bunch does.

November Meeting

Our meeting this month will be Thursday, November 4th, at the Croasdaile Country Club. We will be hosting a very special guest speaker of international fame, Mr. Nicholas Chwalek, Manager of Application Engineers for GeoMagic. This firm is a leading provider of 3D software for creating digital models of physical objects. He will speak on the use of his company's software to shorten time to market & improve product quality. Visit the company website at www.geomagic.com. One PDH credit will be graciously bestowed on those that feel the need. Please let us know if you plan to attend, as spaces will be limited. Bring a potential member, and we will pay for their meal. Our meetings are open to anyone interesting in the wonderful world of Engineering.

News

- The Annual DEC Christmas party will once again have the fine string stylings of members of the NC Symphony. We will present Santa an Honorary DEC Membership if he shows up.
- Any DEC Member spotting the Great Pumpkin Halloween night will get a free autographed picture of King Farouk. Please fill out the appropriate form for this and have it notarized.
- Tidbits: there are none. Please send any news items of interest to DEC Members. We will gladly consider noteworthy bits, including births, (sadly) deaths, marriages, professional accolades, upcoming events, new projects, lottery winnings, shoe sizes, etc., anything so this space will not be lacking. Any helpful suggestions for the Newsletter format will be considered and rejected.

Next Meeting:
