February Meeting

- The February meeting had lucky DEC Members ‘noshing (at Croasdaile) and “netting” (new space-age roadway stabilization products) with the good folks from CONTECH. All left this meeting smug in the knowledge Revere Road and future roads in our fair city will be well taken care of and oh, so stable! See their website contech-cpi.com for more info.

March Meeting

- Join us at Croasdaile, this Thursday- March 10, for a stellar event! Our speaker will be William Rhoe. He is the Boshamer Distinguished Professor & Director of the Center for Urban and Regional Studies at UNC, and will present highlights from his upcoming blockbuster book, “The Research Triangle: From Tobacco Road to Prominence”. This book concerns future growth of the Triangle and how it will impact our infrastructure. This promises to be a very noteworthy presentation.

Tidbits

- Plans are in the works for our club to zip and do-dah at the HandCrafted Homes Plant in nearby Henderson. As soon as slackers firm up the tour date, we will unveil it here first. Attendees will receive a life-sized prefab house for use as a rearview mirror dangle or key fob.
- Sadly, some DEC Members may go on to the big “DEC Meeting In The Sky” (or worse, the big “DEC Meeting Down Below”) this year. This is why it is important to remember our club as your “big day” nears. Tell your executor to include the Durham Engineers Club in your will. We can guarantee you will live on for at least one or two meetings after you pass. Your generosity, sly smile, that dry wit....

Next Meeting:

April 14      Croasdaile      Some new topic sure to be very interesting to most.

***** Don’t miss the DEC Golf Tourney this year, like you did last year! *****
Look in this very spot for the skinny next month.
